

The American Pronghorn (Antilocapra americana), at 100 kph fastest animal of the Northwest, magnificent symbol of free and open spaces, cannot jump barbed-wire.

See the irony: Facebook has built their first mega-server farm in the Pronghorn's habitat, creating a fenced-off, gated community paradise out of the Internet, while ignoring the tremendous promise of the NEW ENERGY PATH, powering every click & like you make with yet one more sinister puff of DARK AGE coal.

FB is to the Web what Devil's rope
is to the open Prairie:

Pronghorns run straight into the same
sharp wire that keeps cattle fat & happy.
