

(Image: November Frost—Spruce at treelimit, outline of a new tenebrism, the European Alps)

The New Tenebrism—An Art lighter than mountain air . . .

In Poetry and Photography, the title or frame creates a background shadow of knowledge of things implied, but left unsaid or unseen;

Out of this background emerge dramatically contrasted centers of light and focus.

The balance of the pattern as a whole is its composition; The strength of emotion thus awakened, its depth of expression.