

On Poetry

If you want to be a poet,
call yourself a farmer;

If you want to be a farmer,
call yourself a religious man or woman;

If you want to be a person
of religion, call yourself
a teacher.

The first student is always
yourself.

(Photo: Mountain Farmer with Spring Lambs—the Alps)