

(Image: Target Practice—the Swiss Alps)

War Games

Every general will tell you very convincingly that he needs more of something: more men, more guns, more, more accurate missiles. He never tells you what he needs most, however, which is more war.